HELP US TO HELP YOU

You had a great day. We want to know about it! Today was not so good. We want to know why!

Jamboree 2005 will pilot a new program in the Northeast Region to measure how well this Jamboree meets your expectations. For a few minutes every day, we will ask the Scouts and Scouters of Subcamp 3 to provide some very important feedback. That information will be used to improve the program for the next day, and for future Jamborees.

Each Jamboree troop will be given four single-page surveys in their breakfast food bin. The completed surveys will be returned when Scouts pick up their supper food bin. The data will be collated and passed along to Subcamp management and Region management to improve the Jamboree.

Every Jamboree troop will also be given a laminated Morale chart. Each day, troops will rate their morale, from "Scout" to "Eagle". "Eagle" means that everything is great! Lower ranks indicate lower morale. The Subcamp morale rating will be calculated from the individual troop ratings and will be posted at the Headquarters tent.

If you have any concerns or suggestions for improvement, please address them to members of the Administrative staff.

Help us to help you have a great Jamboree!

A MAINTENANCE MINUTE

Dan Wolboldt and the Maintenance Department ask for your help in an item of housekeeping. In order to keep things flowing properly, please insure that you flush each and every time you use our Low Flow toilets. Please remind your friends if they might have forgotten, and do your good turn daily by flushing where others may not have.

If there appears to be a problem that a good flush won't fix, please DON'T use the unit! Report the problem immediately to the Administration tent, or to the folks at the Maintenance trailer.

CHAPLAIN'S CORNER

“God's goodness comes in all shapes, sizes, and places. Look for it reflected in the people around you, and in the mirror.”

– Rev. Martha Carlson

DID YOU KNOW...

“What are those hats?”

The kitchen staff is giving away hats from the Seven Ranges Scout Reservation in Buckeye Council as friendship gifts to all staff. The camp got its name from its location in the seventh range (division) of the former Northwest Territories, when Ohio was considered the “far west.”

The entire territory was divided into seven ranges for territorial administration purposes. George Washington surveyed the area when he traveled west from Ft. Pitt in Pennsylvania. The camp is located in the seventh, eastern-most range of the former Northwest Territories, on 1000 acres in Ohio.

Pick up a hat, and get to know your fellow staff members!

STUFF YOU GOTTA KNOW

Administration

If you find a lost item or are missing something, please see the administrative staff for the Lost and Found box.

Please use the Subcamp sign-out list when you are leaving the Subcamp for any reason, so other staffers and visitors are aware of your activities.

If you need something from town, please add it to the list in the administration tent and we'll try to find it for you.

Medical

The Subcamp 3 Medical Center is open twenty-four hours a day. However, we request that medical problems and injuries that are not urgent be evaluated during our sick call hours: one hour after breakfast and dinner every day.

The heat index color-coding scheme is:

Green - no danger. Drink at least a pint of water between meals.

Yellow - increased danger. Drink at least a quart of water between meals.

Red - extreme danger. Drink at least two quarts of water between meals and limit activity.

Simple actions to keep you happy:

1. Drink at least one liter of water or sports drink every day—more if you are doing a lot of exercise.
2. Wear clean socks every day. Let your shoes dry before you wear them again when they are wet. This is important in preventing blisters. Don't go for long walks in your flip flops etc. Do not go bare foot.
3. Put on sunscreen every day when you dress.
4. If the heat index flag is yellow or red, wear an activity uniform instead of your field uniform to dinner.
